FIGHT FOR WOOL BY RAILROADS

Competition in the West More Keen Than Before, While the Clip Will Be Lighter.

"Competition will be extremely keen for the wool freight business this year," is the opinion of most of the freight agents in Salt Lake. This is the only business that the Eastern roads make a special effort for out here, and there will be much hard talking done to get the results. Owing to a falling off in business conditions in the East, and the partial failure of crops in the middle West, the local offices of the roads that have no terminals here have ad-vices that their territory is expected to show greater returns than it has in the

The rate is the same, and the only factor of any consequence is the personal friendship he may have among the traveling freight agents, or any other agents of the roads. Now this year the Michigan Central has opened up a permanent office in the city, also the Chicago & Alton. All the roads have sent out special men, and in some cases general agents from omaha have come to supervise the campaign in person. Next week the representative of the Pennsylvania is expected here, the agent of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, and the Great Southern railway will open up consensus of opinion seems to be that this season will be slow in the that this season will be slow in the wool business. Most of the Eastern houses claimed that they made no money last year, and especially as this is a Presidential year that they cannot refford any fancy prices for wool. The severe losses experienced by the wool growers in the winter of 1902-1903 made the expenses very high last season. If the growers hold out for large figures this year it will mean that the sason this year it will mean that the sazon will drag out to a good length.

Shearing has started on many of the Rio Grande Western corrais and the average number has been booked. The season has been very late in opening on the Oregon Short Line, and it is expected that next week will pass before the shearing is taken in hand. In Idaho and Wyoming also some days will probably elapse before any reports come in of business having started.

While a superior grade of wool is probable this year, it is doubtful whether the quantity will be very plen-Some accounts have it that lossess were no more than normal and that there were none from disease. On the other hand, it is certain that the sheepmen started the winter with much fewer sheep than was usual owing to the previous heavy losses, and that there will be no more wool than will meet the demand.

COURT STOPS CHANGE OF MEETING PLACE

CLEVELAND, O. April 7.-Third Assistant Chief Eli Stevens of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers today secured an injunction from Judge Dissette of the Common Pleas court, temporarily restraining Grand Chief Stone or other officers of the organization from holding the annual conven-tion in Cleveland or any other point aside from Los Angeles.

The latter city was originally chosen as the place for holding this year's convention, but owing to the high transportation rates a movement was re-cently started to hold the convention, which meets May 11th, in this city.

Grand Secretary Ingraham of the while there had been some talk of hold-ing the convention at some point in the middle West as a result of the extreme cost of transportation to Los Angeles, the officers at no time had definitely decided on such a step. He added that, as a matter of fact the delegates would get reduced rates on account of the Methodist general conference to be held at Los Angeles commencing May 5th, and that as a result the brotherhood convention will doubtless be held in that city as originally planned.

Secretary Lund Retorts.

Editor Tribune:—Will you kindly give space to the following regarding the Socialist convention held the 6th inst. in Federation of Labor hall? First the objection of State Secretary Lund was, that the call had never been made with the knowledge of the organization; that it is the result of a star chamber conspiracy of a minority of quarum, and entirely without the knowledge of either the State Secretary's office or members of the State committee, hence the Socialists in the State had no office. the Socialists in the State had no offi-cial knowledge of it at all. Also that I was prevented by gag law rom making a statement to the meet ng of the facts, so members present rom the country could act intelligently. Also that in the representation there the majority were new members of State organization. Some of the elected county representatives are fusionists of late municipal campaign, and of no standing in our party. A statement of party affairs, finincial and relat-ing to organization, will be sent to all local organizations affiliated with the Socialist party of Utah, and the result Socialist party of Utan, and the result of instruction from those will be the future course pursued by State organizations, and a legal convention, open to all Socialists of the State, called to all Socialists of the State, called whether agreeable to a Free Lance lecture bureau or a pseudo Socialist paper.
